Component Engineering

Contributor to 000h by Cojeev, built by Sanjay Kumar Gautam: registry payload delivery, appearance reliability and consumer verification. Separately, contributed 0dB's merged accessible Meter with nine unit/SSR tests. 000h contribution | Merged Meter PR

MadeSoon (formerly SA Studio)

Joint studio website with Sanjay Kumar Gautam. Led the website's art direction and frontend implementation, shaping a continuous Relay journey, responsive compositions and scene handoffs. The site is live. Its Studio Studies are disclosed generated concepts, rather than delivered client work. madesoon.tech | Case study

Application Preflight

Built a local Node.js review workspace for public-board discovery, evidence-led India eligibility and source-backed answer preparation. Added validation, explainable preflight, deduplication and regression tests. Final application review and submission remain manual. Case study

Vastraveda

Built a family saree storefront and operations workflow, including catalogue, persistent cart, checkout validation and order handling. Public storefront; payment and refund workflows still need live validation. shopvastraveda.com

Reel OS

Authored a local Python/FFmpeg media workflow with source/timecode evidence, validated edit plans, editable OTIO timelines and technical QA. Built supervised private Drive intake and review delivery, with human editorial review before publishing. The editor interface shown in the portfolio is a prototype. Case study

Sienna

Developing a local-first assistant prototype with native SwiftUI clients and an authenticated private gateway. Mac preview work covers notes, checklist identity and task/reminder actions. Wider voice, recurrence and physical-device readiness remain in development. Case study

Instagram Creative Practice

Create original reels and visual stories, combining editing, distribution and insight analysis. Use dated insight reviews to present results clearly, keeping post-level follows, reach and views separate from account net growth. @abhayrohit_
